"Our Town"

This is blue Monday. I had to carry over from last week an unsolved problem. I have a homespun habit of long years standing—drinking water from a gourd. The gourd I used was over 100 years old and was given to me in 1938 by Mrs. Wallace Moody of Minerva. Last week some upstart whose culture is still at low tide, broke my gourd. The candidate in the field these days trying to explain reduced pension checks may be hot and bothered but my job is more difficult. How can any man sit down calmly and write of things beautiful, brag on folks and support everybody for public office, if he can't temper his mental uprisings with a cool drink of water from his favorite gourd? So it looks like a drink diet. I'm as thirsty as a prohibitionist in a dry town. I must depend on my friends in the country. How the gourd crop will be this year we may soon determine, for the fruit of the Legenaria vulgaris is now ripening and hardening in the summer sun. I can see them hanging from the garden fence, and when memory keeps me company and moves to smiles or tears a cedar bucket and a gourd dipper loom through the mist of the years. True, they were things of simple classic art. Sometimes the old bucket was green with moss and crickets hibernated in the handle of the gourd. Thirst was never slaked around a water cooler with paper cups in an air cooled office. Give me grandpa's gulp of cold gourd water sweet from the well, letting generous portions fall over the chin and chest. That is what David was trying to say when he wrote about the deer panting for the brook, or what the rich man really needed when he asked Lazarus to dip his finger in the old cedar bucket and put a drop on his parched tongue.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hughes of Ad Hall, who have been away from their home teaching school at Lacy's Spring, Alabama, have returned and will spend the remainder of the summer at their home. Their many friends were happy to greet them and are pleased to know they will be at home here for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. George Jones of Cameron are the happy parents of a son, Bobby Wayne, born at 12:50 a. m., on July 21 at the Newton Memorial Hospital. He weighed eight and three quarters pounds.

"I am for Dr. Rainey"

BY J. FRANK DOBIE

Nothing that Homer Rainey advocates is half-way, half-revealed, half hidden in a hole, half-held by some demure corporation with offices in the skyscraper canyons of New York. You can take any principle or measure that he advocates and put a Coast Guard searchlight on it, and you'll find his plainness and directness unshadowed.

Take the Negro subject. According to the Constitution of Texas, "Separate schools shall be provided for white and colored children, and impartial provisions shall be made for both."

"When I become governor," Rainey asserts, "I shall swear to uphold that Constitution."

This means one thing and it does not mean two tongues. It means that Homer Rainey will not make any move to disturb the present separation of schools, and that he will work to provide the Negroes with an efficient, dignified school system of their own, from the lower grades on up to a Negro university.

In the long run the freeing of slaves did fully as much for the white people of the South as it did for the Negroes. What reasonable white man or woman would today return to the traffic in human bodies? What person with pride or a sense of justice wants to raise his own head by standing on another human being's back? What man of color ever profited himself, in the final estimate, by keeping another man, no matter of what color, in the ditch?

The education of the Negroes in Texas and elsewhere in the South, and the raising of their standard of living will actually advance the standards of life in the whole area. It will advance prosperity and enlightenment for whites as well as for colored.

Everybody agrees that we need a practical man for governor. A practical statesman has a mind stored with knowledge, has the power to think out wise conclusions, and has the ability to get others to cooperate in wise and just policies. It is well to pray for wisdom, but no man can be wise in complex affairs, no matter how hard he prays, unless he is master of a great deal of information.

I have been reading a series of articles written and radioed by Homer Rainey on PROBLEMS OF THE SOUTH. These problems concern Industry, Transportation, Health, Schools, Technology, Voting Restrictions, Race, Religion and other factors that condition our daily lives. When I consider Rainey's concrete information on these subjects, bought by years of hard study, and his firm grasp of them, made possible by his native good sense, and when I consider Rainey's competitors, I am reminded of a verse I once saw printed in box car letters on the walls of a garage in Idaho:

"They copied my words, but they couldn't copy my mind; I felt them a-stewing and a-straggling forty years behind."

Knowledge and trained intellect are as essential to the governor of this mighty state as to a first class doctor, professor or lawyer. The science of government goes into many branches of life.

TOURIST COURTS HERE PURCHASED BY PHILLIPS

B. B. Phillips of Three Rivers, has purchased the Grove Tourist Courts near the municipal air field and work has begun to improve them and to beautify the grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillips have moved to Cameron. They spent a vacation in Arkansas, having sold their hotel in Three Rivers. They have taken possession of the courts which have been named Phillips Courts.

Extensive plans are being projected for the courts and as quickly as materials are available the program will be carried out. The courts are open for business. When the improvements are made the public will be invited to come and see the courts. A cafe will be operated in connection with the courts.

200 ABSENTEE VOTES CAST FOR PRIMARY

Absentee voting in the July 27 primary election ended at midnight Tuesday.

Homer Nabours, county clerk, said early Wednesday that 200 votes were cast up to closing time on Tuesday and it was expected this would be approximately the number. A few may arrive by mail.

The number is not as high as in some of the previous primaries but sufficient to indicate wide interest in the voting next Saturday.

Under a new law the polls will open at 7 p. m. instead of 8 as heretofore. A full 12 hours of voting will be given. The polls will close at 7 p. m.

A. J. Matula is Moving To Houston to Engage In Accessory Business

A. J. Matula has sold his service station on highway 36 at the west entrance to the business district, to Charlie Porubsky, an ex-service man, and will soon move to Houston where he has purchased an auto accessory and supply store on East Montgomery street.

Mr. Matula, before leaving the city, has placed an advertisement thanking his friends and patrons here. He has been engaged in the service station business here for the past 14 years and the people here regret that he is leaving the city.

Mr. Matula expects to take over his new business in Houston about August 1.

Pat M. Neff Leading In Attorney General Race; Support Grows

Pat M. Neff of Houston was leading in the race for Attorney General in the poll of Texas voters and with the indorsement of the Old Age Pension Association his election seemed assured.

Neff, a tall Texan and a veteran of World War II, has served eight years in the Attorney General's office, but is not now in that office. Liberal sentiment now sweeping Texas to preserve the state for the people as against the ever-grasping monopolies, is supporting Neff for Attorney General.

In Cameron and Milam county Neff was getting a good support and although without any campaign organization such as Price Daniel has, will carry a heavy vote.

The fight to restore Texas to the People is not a campaign phrase. It is a reality. The common people have never been more in peril than now. Wake up! Vote only for men who are liberal in their view and who are known to favor the cause of the common man.

New Minister of First Presbyterian Church

E. O. Harrell, new minister at First Presbyterian church, has just concluded his first important work as leader of the congregation and in the community. The Vacation Bible School was a very successful course of study for the children and graduation exercises were held Friday night.

Mr. Harrell was born and reared in Coryell county. He attended the public schools there. After one year in Baylor he went to Austin college at Sherman and there received his A.B. degree. In preparation for work in the ministry he attended Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary and graduated there in 1944 after three years of work.

From the Seminary he went to the Westminster Presbyterian church in Beaumont where he was engaged for 18 months. He came to the Cameron church in May from Beaumont.

While in the Seminary he served the churches at Brenham, Somerville, Caldwell and Calvert.

Mrs. Harrell was born in the West Indies, the daughter of a Sea Captain who spent more than 40 years in world commerce. Mr. and Mrs. Harrell were married in Waco and spent their honeymoon in the West Indies before they moved to Cameron.

W. T. HANES TO ADVISE ON SCHOOL TEXT BOOKS

W. T. Hanes, superintendent of Cameron schools, has been named an advisor on text books for Texas schools, it was learned here Friday.

Mr. Hanes has been asked by Dr. A. M. Long, president of the State Board of Education to act as his personal advisor on the matter of selecting text books. Mr. Hanes has accepted the appointment.

Due to the peculiarity of the Text-book Law members of the State Board of Education may not deal directly with publishers.

In connection with Mr. Hanes' appointment it is noted that the Texas contract for books is the largest of its kind in the world.

Mr. Hanes, widely known school authority, in his newest recognition, has brought distinction to his community and honor to the Cameron school system, now being expanded and modernized.

MORE TEACHER PAY IN PROSPECT HERE

A Statement Made by Dr. Homer P. Rainey At Olney on July 20

Yesterday a yellow circular appeared on the streets of Cameron asking support for Dr. Homer P. Rainey from all who believe in the C.I.O., PAC, National Association for Advancement of Colored People of America and Racial, Social and Economic Equality in Texas.

The purpose of this circular is obvious—to slander Dr. Rainey. Tomorrow we will publish partial contents of another slander perpetrated in Austin by the Economic Imperialists who want to "stop Rainey."

In answer to the yellow circular we quote from a speech by Dr. Rainey at Olney on July 20:

"Since I returned to Texas in 1939, I have consistently advocated the building of a first-class educational system of their own for Negroes. I especially recommended a University for Negroes. This I still advocate, as a Southern solution of a Southern problem."

"I have always opposed, I now oppose, and as your Governor will oppose admission of Negroes to our white schools. This is a matter of record."

"Our good colored people do not desire entry into our University or public schools. They want first-class schools of their own. They are entitled to them as a matter of law and common decency."

"When Homer P. Rainey is Governor, you and I are going to see to it that these educational facilities are provided for our colored citizens, and thereby remove this question from Texas politics forever."

"With all my power I denounce the efforts of desperate people who seek to inject racial hatred into this campaign. It is a political trick of those who have signed up for the 'Stop-Rainey' movement to mislead the people and get away from the real issues."

Dr. Rainey's headquarters in Austin early Tuesday said the yellow circular is obviously one of a number of such attacks being made on him over the state. The circular was repudiated and branded spurious, similar in tactics to the pamphlet circulated in Austin that Dr. Rainey had not served in the armed forces in World War I. Dr. Rainey waived his exemption as a minister in World War I and served as a private in the ranks of the United States Army.

DOBIE AT ROGERS SAYS RAINY IS THE MAN

ROGERS (Spl.—J. Frank Dobie Saturday night branded exploiters of Texas natural resources with using the book, "USA," as a smoke screen to obscure the real issues in the governor's race.

Speaking to an American Legion barbecue crowd in this Bell county community, Dobie urged the election of Dr. Homer P. Rainey as governor.

"Anybody who believes that the oil, sulphur and gas men are putting up tens of thousands of dollars to fight Rainey because their delicate sensibilities have been offended by 'USA' would believe that mourning doves attack wild cats," Dobie said.

Famed as an author of Texas folklore, the University of Texas professor charged that "the oil companies, their cronies, henchmen and favorite sons are afraid to face Rainey's platform."

Dr. Rainey has the qualifications to be "the first genuinely modern governor for modern Texas," Dobie said.

"The oil and gas companies have been the plunderers of the natural resources in Texas in our times. When Homer Rainey is governor such plundering will cease. He will not allow our common inheritance to be plundered in the name of free enterprise."

"Homer Rainey believes in good business. He does not believe in running the State's business as if it were a grab bag for the benefit of ever-grasping monopolies," Dobie said.

Mrs. Ann Luce of Milano is ill and is now in Newton Memorial Hospital for treatment.

FREE TRAINING COURSE AT MUNICIPAL AIRPORT

Free training in three phases of flying is now available to men and women who have been discharged from the army and navy air corps.

LeRoy Mills, manager of the air field, announced Thursday that he hoped to begin the training program about August 15.

The school has just been approved by the CAA. Courses in private, commercial and instructors rating will be given.

There will be no charge as the government will pay the instructor. This program has been put into effect at many of the air fields over the country, Waco having announced such a program only recently.

Mr. Mills, a pilot, trained army fliers during the war and has over 7,000 hours in the air. He will have three more new planes at the field, one new Taylorcraft and two new Aeronca Champions. They are expected to be here by August 5.

Right now plans are being made to hold a formal opening and reception on August 1. By that time a cafe will be open and soft drinks will be available. A good crowd is expected. The city and the community at large will share in the reception and formal opening program. Likely it will include an air show.

Mills maintains a plane for cotton dusting. So far farmers of the county have not taken advantage of this program as they might. The benefits are very large. On a recent test on a field where there was 60 per cent infestation, two dustings reduced the infestation to 10 per cent. It is the first time such a service has been available to the farmers of this area.

On the flight training course, Mills pointed out that men who want these courses can take them without interfering with their jobs.

Boyce House May Win Lieut. Governor Race In First Primary

With all polls giving Boyce House a long lead in the race for Lieutenant Governor, House's headquarters said today that such a strong trend has set in for him that there is a likelihood of his winning without a runoff.

The Belden poll recently gave House a substantial margin in the race. Jim Carroll of the Houston Press, after a statewide tour, reported House far in front, and Lewis Nordsyke in a political analysis in the Amarillo Globe-News said he was the strong leader in all sections.

Since the polls were taken, sentiment for House has been growing by leaps and bounds. The latest development in his favor is the knocking out of a law which would have prevented 100,000 elderly citizens from voting because they lived in towns of 10,000 or more and had not renewed their exemption certificates. House will receive the large majority of these 100,000 votes because of his clear-cut stand in favor of paying the full $40 per month in old age assistance and removing the ceiling.

NEW BAKERY AND COFFEE COUNTER SOON TO OPEN

Fred Jackson's new bakery and coffee and doughnut counter will soon open.

Fixtures are being installed and the building is being renovated with a modern tile and glass front.

Mr. Jackson, a veteran of the late war, is receiving suggestions on a name for the new business and will give suitable prizes.

The bakery will follow the modern style of serving coffee and pastries. The new business will make a bright spot on an otherwise drab street in Cameron.

J. C. Ashenbeck of Wharton attended the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Louisa Beckhusen in Cameron on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George McGhee accompanied her mother, Mrs. Rech, to her home in Smithville on Sunday. Mrs. Rech had been visiting here for several days.

NEW FUNDS MAY TOTAL $11 CAPITA INCREASE

Another increase in teacher pay was in prospect here Friday as new state funds were made available to the local schools and prospects for added per capita payments brightened the outlook for 1946-47.

Dr. Clifford Swift, President of the Cameron School Board, was happy over developments and said that while the board does not know exactly how much their funds may be increased but as soon as the situation can be fairly assessed the board will allocate all possible funds to still further increase teacher pay here.

The board went ahead and increased pay for the teachers $8500 by utilizing funds on hand and in view of an additional state apportionment of $4. Since that time an additional $2 has been made available but not as yet received.

The State Board of Education has announced still another increase, subject to legal interpretation at Austin which would make available an additional $5 for the coming school term which begins in September. It all adds up to $11 per capita more than was anticipated. Approximately $14,300 will have come into the local board treasury when all the state increases are realized.

Dr. Swift was happy over the developments and said that the local board feels that the new school year here is the brightest in the history of the school on teacher pay. He added that every dollar beyond the need for adequate reserve of cash for emergencies will be paid to teachers.

Dr. Swift was anxious for the patrons of the school and the people of the city to know about the good fortune and by generous reference to all matters pertaining to the schools he says the policy of the board will be to keep them informed and to encourage a greater popular interest in school affairs which will be a welcome phase in the program here for a greater school system.

ROARK FOR COUNTY CLERK

TO THE VOTERS OF MILAM COUNTY:

Shortly over a year ago, this country's hopes were high; your hearts were happy. One of the most terrible wars in all history was over and won. Your husbands, sons, brothers, sweethearts, and even you, were coming back home soon. Flags were waving merrily—the time you had planned for, hoped for, and prayed for, had come. There was talk about the fine job "G.I. Joe" had done for his country, and he was worthy of every word of praise, and then some. He was coming back to his home, his country, and his loved ones—hoping to find the peace and happiness about which he had dreamed. However, his heart was saddened because many of his buddies would not be returning. They had fought hard; they had died nobly. Those returning must now find a place for themselves in the country for which they had fought. I am one of those fortunate ones to return, to seek a place among you.

I am coming now to ask you for the office of County Clerk of Milam county. I feel that I am qualified to serve you in this capacity, and will consider it an honor to do so.

I had hoped for an opportunity of speaking to you publicly, but this privilege was not extended me. So, I am appealing to you, through this letter, to consider my candidacy. If you think I am worthy, please give me your vote.

I have not been able to see each of you personally, but have endeavored to do so. I'm making this race on my own initiative, and at my own expense. I am a young man and will greatly appreciate your giving me a chance. So, when you go to the polls on July 27, cast a vote for L. J. Roark for County Clerk.

Yours very truly,
L. J. ROARK,

J. OTTO KELM DIED AT BEN ARNOLD WEDNESDAY

J. Otto Kelm, 83, Texas pioneer and a resident of Milam county for the past 36 years, died at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday, July 17, at his home near Ben Arnold.

Mr. Kelm passed away in his sleep. His only living brother, Albert Kelm, of Burton in Washington county, had arrived at the Kelm home on Tuesday for a visit and the family were talking when Mr. Kelm said he wished to rest and went to his room. The family went to the lawn of the home so as not to disturb Mr. Kelm in his rest. Later his daughter went to his room and found him dead.

J. Otto Kelm was born December 28, 1862 at Berlin in Washington county, Texas. He was married there and in 1910 moved with his family to Ben Arnold where he owned and operated a farm for 36 years.

Mrs. Kelm died eight years ago and since that time Mr. Kelm has lived at home with his daughters to care for him.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Friday, July 19 from the family residence at Ben Arnold with services at St. James Evangelical Lutheran church at Vogelsang. Rev. R. Kalkbrenner will conduct the services. Interment will be made in the Ben Arnold cemetery.

Mr. Kelm was the son of a Confederate soldier. He was born in 1862 while his father who came to Washington county from Germany, was away from home serving in the army of the South. He was two years old when his father returned from the army. Mr. Kelm was a member of the Lutheran church at Burlington.

Surviving are three sons, Albert Kelm of Plainview, Otto Kelm of Cameron, and Edwin Kelm of Ben Arnold; two daughters, Miss Elsie Kelm and Miss Edna Kelm of Ben Arnold.

Mrs. John McLerran is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. McLerran.

KEY RATE WILL BE CUT 2C HERE ON AUGUST 1

Cameron's fire insurance key rate will be cut two cents on August 1 it was said by Gordon Baskin of the Camp-Baskin agency.

The city was penalized some time ago when the reports failed to reach the Fire Insurance Commissioner.

The savings to be effected was not known but the key rate will be restored to its former level.

ROBERT G. HUGHES THE CANDIDATE VISITS CITY

Robert G. Hughes of Tom Green county, and a candidate for Associate Justice Third Court of Civil Appeals, was in Cameron early Monday on a campaign tour of this county.

Mr. Hughes said that he was getting tremendous encouragement over the district and appreciates the support he is getting in Milam county.

Mr. Hughes lives in San Angelo. He has an impressive record of public service and is running against Judge Blair who has held the office for more than 23 years.

Mr. Hughes has practiced law 20 years and began his public service as city attorney in San Angelo where he served eight years. He was appointed District Attorney and served two years and eight months.

When he was named District Attorney it was to succeed a younger man who was called away to war. Judge Hughes did something very few office holders have ever done. He resigned when the man whom he succeeded came back from the war. For having done this he is to be commended highly and the people will appreciate this magnanimous gesture on his part.

Judge Hughes is a war veteran of World War I. He is 46 years old, is married and has four children.

Judge Hughes has never asked for an indorsement from the bar. He received such an indorsement in Tom Green county, but it came voluntarily.

While he made no comment, friends here have been pointing out that lawyers generally have little option when a judge asks for their indorsement in advance of an election. Such practice should be discontinued. No judge is in debt to a bar member who campaigns for his election but many think it is not a proper thing to do. Judge Hughes was due to get a good vote here largely on the grounds of his excellent record; his action in resigning an office so a soldier boy could get it back, and the fact that he does not have a bar endorsement.

Charlie Porubsky is Now Owner of Matula Service Station

Charlie Porubsky, Jr., is now the owner of the J. A. Matula Service Station on Highway 36 at the west entrance to the business section.

Mr. Porubsky is a veteran of the late war. He served in the European theatre of operations with the Military Police. He contracted illness in service and was sent to an army hospital in California where he remained for seven months, returning to his home here to engage in business.

Mr. Porubsky has a modern station with all services including two experienced mechanics who are: S. F. Creacy and Ernest Weidman.

OFFICIAL NOTICE

The City of Cameron is making an effort to keep our town as clean as possible. One of the chief sources of disease, especially polio, is the failure to properly dispose of sewage and to keep dry closets clean and treated with lime. This service is given for a monthly charge of 50c, payable when service is rendered. All must take advantage of this service or imperil our town with an epidemic of disease. Failure to pay will subject every owner or tenant of premises to a fine of not less than $100. This law must and will be enforced. Do not fail to observe this appeal for the public's good and for your own good. (Signed) CITY OF CAMERON, By Dan Tyson, Secretary-Treasurer. By order of City Council, July 16, 1946 (13-1tc)

VOTE FOR

FOR COMMISSIONER

PRECINCT 3

As your Commissioner it would be my purpose to devote my entire time to the job and to concentrate on roads that need repairs first and to make the benefits of road construction and maintenance available in all sections of the Precinct.

My experience, I feel would be most helpful in giving you the kind of service you would want your Commissioner to render. The office of Commissioner is one of the most important in the county and in addition to close application to duty on the roads I would be especially concerned with giving you loyal and capable service on the court.

It has not been my pleasure to see each voter and I take this means of appealing to each one personally to ask their vote and support on Saturday, July 27, when you go to the polls to cast your vote. My pledge is to do the job and I will greatly appreciate your vote, being mindful at all times of my obligation to you for your expression of confidence.

To the People of Milam County

I am deeply grateful for the privilege of having had the opportunity to see so many of the voters of the county in my race for Assessor and Collector of Texas. I want now to especially direct this appeal to those I did not have the pleasure of seeing during the campaign and to ask your vote and support.

I invite your attention to my record and to my life as I have lived it in this my native county. In all I have tried to do it has been my first consideration to be loyal, to be true and faithful and I want to serve you as your Assessor and Collector of Texas. My experience would enable me to immediately begin my service in the manner you expect and I pledge you that I will work and work hard at the job. I believe in doing the days work. Anyone who asks to serve the people should feel that he owes his best efforts at all times and I pledge you this will be done.

I want especially to urge the discharged veterans and those who may be in uniform who are qualified, to go to the polls and vote. Our state has made it possible for you to vote without payment of a poll tax and every young man who served his country as I did should go and vote.

When you go to the polls on Saturday, July 27, remember me and take this as my personal appeal for your support.

CONTOURS And TERRACES

Boost Crop Yields

MORE than 30 per cent average increase in crop yields — that was the reward of 9,000 farmers recently checked on results of their soil conservation program. Terraces and contours were responsible for much of this extra yield. By holding rainfall, they provided "natural irrigation" for slopes.

Almost all crops will respond to better moisture control. If you have sloping fields, farming on the contour, terracing or strip cropping almost certainly will pay you a profit.

Terracing is no longer a job for engineers and heavy machinery.

Listen to the NATIONAL FARM AND HOME HOUR with Everett Mitchell . . . every Saturday . . . NBC.

You can build terraces successfully with your regular farm equipment. Allis-Chalmers has developed practical methods of terracing, strip cropping, and building grassed waterways with your farm tractor and tractor plow.

The Allis-Chalmers handbook "You Have What It Takes To Contour and Terrace" will show you where you need terraces and how to build them. Ask us for a copy . . . it's free.

LAW ENFORCEMENT IS PLEDGED BY DR. RAINEY

Temple, Texas, July 2.—Dr. Homer P. Rainey pledged here tonight that no hardened criminal, with string of convictions, would be released from prison if he is elected governor.

Declaring that a governor "can and should do something when crimes of violence increase nearly 50 per cent in one year's time," Dr. Rainey said:

"This practice of releasing habitual criminals upon the helpless citizen ship of Texas must be stopped."

Dr. Rainey promised the peace officers, jurors and citizens of Texas that he would personally review every recommendation made by the Board of Pardons and Paroles.

"No thug, who has habitually violated the law, will be released from prison with my approval," Dr. Rainey said.

Quoting Texas police association records, Dr. Rainey said in 1948, under former Governor James V. Allred, 1808 clemencies were granted.

"By 1943, however the number of clemencies had jumped to 4,506; and in 1944, the number was 4,220. In the 181 month period ending in February, 5,829 clemencies were signed by the governor," Dr. Rainey said.

Youthful first offenders should be considered for clemency, Dr. Rainey said, and added that a Texas constitutional amendment adopted in 1935 authorizes judges to suspend sentences and place defendants on probation, under such conditions as the legislature may prescribe.

"This is a wholesome provision, but the legislature has done nothing about it. I shall urge them to put this amendment into effect," Rainey said.

"It is most desirable to let judges, who are on the ground and know the facts, deal with juvenile delinquents and first offenders," he said.

To combat juvenile delinquency, Dr. Rainey said he was for the establishment of an unpaid State Recreational Commission which should assist local communities in planning play facilities and programs for boys and girls.

He said supervised play is a community responsibility, but the proposed commission can help with "technical advice, information as to the best practices and thorough aid in planning."

Citing other states which have several times more than the 250 patrolmen Texas has to police its 28,000 miles of state highway, Dr. Rainey said:

"It is small wonder that the spectre of death on the highway hangs over us all."

ALLEN SHIVERS IS FULLY QUALIFIED

ALLAN SHIVERS

Senator Allen Shivers is the only candidate for lieutenant governor who has the experience and qualifications that are so badly needed to properly preside over the Texas Senate, the lieutenant governor's chief function. Allan Shivers gained this experience through 12 years of service as a senator, interrupted only by two years overseas duty with the Army. He is also the only war veteran seeking the lieutenant governor's office.

(Paid political advertisement.)

Increased appropriations for the state department of public safety were advocated by the gubernatorial candidate.

Knowledge, guided by thought, has advanced the human race from stone hammers to atomic bombs. Now that we are in the atomic age, only knowledge, guided by thought, can direct society wisely.

It is high time that QUALITY OF MIND became a consideration with Texan and other American voters. No man with a good mind and an honest nature appeals to short-sighted ignorance, to provincialism, to prejudice. In these times any sincere thinking man seeks to extend the horizons of tolerance and truth.

Any person with the memory of a grasshopper can recollect candidates who have promised better schools, better roads, thicker meringue on lemon pies, plenty of salt pork in the frijoles, and everything else that's nice — and not a penny more taxes. Some of the other candidates in the governor's race right now are promising better roads, better pay for teachers and other state employees, better schools for Negroes, a farm and house for every veteran — and not a word about taxes.

So far as I have been able to read or hear, Homer Rainey is the only candidate with a practical, straight-out plan on taxes.

The people of Texas can and will elect to any office any kind of man they please. They will never get orderliness, fairness between all levels, the good life they are entitled to until they install enlightened men to govern. No governor can do everything by himself, but the governor leads the state. His power through appointment is enormous.

Homer Rainey has had a great deal of executive experience. He has a reasonableness about him that makes it easy for others to cooperate with him. A strong man who knows he is right always gets support. I come back to Rainey's enlightened conscience. Many men who mean well don't know enough to do well. Rainey has all the qualifications to be the first genuinely modern governor of modern Texas.

Let no citizen be sidetracked into supposing that Homer Rainey's interest in education is confined to the University of Texas. Years before he headed towards the Governor's Mansion, he was working for the kind of schools that will lift the Texan standard of life.

Rainey knows that our school system needs something besides more money, though it needs money desperately. He is aware of the relationship between a people's economic life and school training. He links a dairyman's freedom with academic freedom.

In the good old simple times of free grass and free homesteads, some fellow with a pair of brass lungs, and with an ignorance so dense that he didn't know whether Jesus Christ was crucified or scalped by the Indians, could get elected to office. The country went on prospering. Free land for exploitation and expansion seemed unlimited. Government, compared with the functions it is now called upon to exercise, was relatively unimportant. Those simple times of simple government simply can not come back.

When I was a boy on our ranch in Live Oak county, I was very sad that I had not been born a generation earlier to drive up the trail with my grandpa, my father and my uncles on both sides of the house. They rode when there wasn't a strand of barbed wire between the Gulf of Mexico and the North Pole.

In those days the sea of grass waving over the Great Plains had never been scarred by a single furrow. The range was all open and the grass was all free.

I shall always think that those were magnificent days to ride in. Free grass passed long ago. Any rancher who set out tomorrow to go back to it would starve along with his cattle. You may sing "Don't Fence Me In" until you choke down, but the fences are getting tighter, the people are getting thicker, the machines are getting more numerous. The only way to personal happiness and social justice lies in adapting ourselves to changed conditions. The adaptation, as respects politics, calls for men trained in the science of government.

Rainey is a new kind of candidate in the field of Texas politics. In him, a figure of trained strength has emerged to grapple with the many-sided, intricately involved, complex life that modern government is forced to deal with. The old line office-seeker finds this life chaos; he leaves it chaos. Only this new kind of political figure who has studied for years, who has strength of mind as well as strength of character, and who has a righteous daring, can lead the way in bringing order out of chaos.

One of Rainey's opponents laments that any professor should go into "sordid politics." The only way to take sordidness out of politics is for decent citizens to get into politics. It is no more sordid to serve one's country in the field of statecraft than to serve it on the battle field. It is just as necessary. The science of government is in itself a great and noble science.

Homer Rainey is not making any silver-tongued speeches about the golden past. His cause needs votes and he wants votes, but he has too much respect for human dignity to go around flattering people and fawning on them.

He is setting out hard facts, facts about the present. He is grappling with conditions that cry out to be improved. In education, he tells his listeners, Texas stands 38th among the 48 states; in a public health program, it stands 42nd. In 1940, eighty percent of the farm houses in Texas had no running water. Somebody else can wave the Lone Star flag right now.

In public discussion, Homer Rainey and the University of Texas can't be separated. You may hear it charged that Rainey "got the University into a mess." The extent of his getting it "into a mess" consisted solely of his standing out against short-sighted greed and heavy-handed money power. I have been a professor myself in this University for a long time. Ninety per cent of the staff and students were for Rainey in his fight against the regents.

The Board of Regents that fired Rainey had been stacked and packed, picked by tools and approved by the tool-makers. It was no more representative of the educational and democratic elements of Texas than the Board of Directors of the Standard Oil Company of New York is. The regents who fired Rainey were oil millionaires and corporation lawyers.

When they set out five years ago to "get Rainey", they knew as much about the functions of a real university and the meaning of a liberal mind as a hog knows about a side-saddle. They have not learned anything since.

They have had their way, and today the administration of this big university is on the plane of some politics-juggled, two-bit college in Mississippi, which has the lowest educational rating of any state in the Union.

Other state institutions of learning are stifled just as barbarously as the University of Texas is, but fighters for free minds have been more numerous and have had more strength to resist at the University; consequently it has received more publicity. All the boards are packed with reactionary Texas Regulars.

These people have made a great deal of noise about freedom of enterprise. Homer Rainey is emphatically for more freedom of enterprise, not less. He would extend freedom of economic enterprise from the Big Four to the Four Million.

Homer Rainey would enlarge the area of free enterprise to include the mind as well as money. He would remove the educational system of this state from domination by a few reactionary rich men and numerous corporations that have always fought democracy and feared ideas.

This is not a condemnation of wealth. There are rich men who recognize their obligations to society. This is not a condemnation of business, either big or little. Over and over Rainey has proposed the development of industry. He hammers away constantly at the necessity of running the State's business in a business-like way. What he condemns is the greed and tyranny of "the malefactors of wealth."

There is no freedom of any kind unless men can think free, speak free, teach free. I had rather go to hell in a hand basket than wear the collar designed by the power-worshipping, idea-fearing gang of reactionary regents now running Texas institutions of higher learning from El Paso to Galveston.

But, various seekers for votes say, "Let us have peace and harmony. Let us forgive and forget." Yes, we'll all have peace and harmony if we'll all lie down on our backs and let those distrusters of free minds and opponents of a better day for the common man walk on our bellies. These Texas Regular opponents hold keys to vast bank vaults. Snuggle into their arms and put the common man to sleep, and we'll all have peace.

Let free men forget and forgive and give up, and everything will be as harmonious as a graveyard, where the only pulse that beats for liberty is the pulse of memory. No, I thank you.

I am for Rainey because the fire of just indignation against wrong and tyranny burns inside him. Nor is the matter personal with him. The cause is bigger than any personality. Yet the man has never lost his temper. His good nature expresses the wholesome balance of his makeup.

I repeat, Rainey has all the qualifications to be the first genuinely modern governor of modern Texas. He has vigor of body, mind and character. He is extraordinarily well informed; he is keenly intelligent; his sincerity and integrity will do to ride any river with. His feet are on the solid earth.
